BARCELONA, May 8.—The riotous strikers held complete possession of this city yester day for a time. They stopped the tram cars and threw one from the track and smashed it to pieces. Bodies of strikers proceeded to the various printing offices throughout the city and by threats compelled the composi-tors to leave their work. In consequence no newspapers were published yesterday. Placards have been scattered broadcast urging the strikers to pillage the city. The mounted police charged the rioters, but the latter resisted and attacked the police, finally compelling them to retire. In the evening three regiments arrived in the city and the Governor lessed a proclamation threatening death to any of the strikers who would interfere with the liberty of the men who were willing to work. The mob became cowed at the firm attitude of the authorities and the presence of the military and slowly dispersed. At midnight quietness deserted, but it is feared that further rioting

The Chicago Strike.

CRICAGO, May 8 .- A temporary truce was alled in the sash, door and blind mills this norning, the employers conceding the morning, the employers conceding the strikers' demands for the day, pending a conference with the men and each other. The employers say that they cannot afford to give their men the eight hour day unless it becomes general among their competitors. Between this time and Monday they will endeavor to learn the status of affairs in this respect, and if the concession cannot be made general the truce will, at the end of that time, be declared off and the strike will be on again.

The 400 sash, door and blind workers on strike at the C. J. L. Meyer & Sons Co. are offered eight hours and eight hours' pay by the firm. This is refused. The men demand eight hours' work and nine hours' pay.

At a secret meeting of the Marble Cutters' Union last night it was resolved to make a demand on the employers for eight hours' work and nine hours yay. In the shops so far heard from this morning the demand has been conceded. The demand only applies in the retail shops, which employs in the aggregate about 2,000 men. The employes in the wholesale establishments decided not to make any demand, being convinced that their employers, who have to compete with Vermont marble, are not in position to give any better terms.

chosen to succeed Bishop Lefevre, who died in 1870.

Bishop Borgess' official career in Detroit was a notable and eventful one. He believed in vigorous work and early took steps to strengthen his diocese both spiritually and financially. In 1876 he promulgated a series of orders in which he required that all church, school or parochial property then held or to be subsequently acquired, should be deeded to himself in fee simple and not to his successor in office, and that the final authority on the contracting of church debts and the extension of church buildings should be vested in him. He used his authority greatly to the atvantage of the church. Bishop Borges during the administration succeeded in establishing nine charities in Detroit, and his work will ever be known as a memorable one. In the spring of 1887, knowing that he was subject to heart disease, Bishop Borgess sent in his resignation, which wis in due time acted upon and Rev. John Foley of Baltimore chosen to succeed him.

MURDERED IN THEIR BEDS.

The Mystery Surrounding a Horrible Crime

BALTIMORE, Md., May 3 .- Sarah Blaney, lina, residing at 1035 Green Mount avenue, were found murdered in their beds this mornwere found murdered in their beds this moraing. Their skulls had been crushed by a blunt instrument. Wm. Blaney, a grandson of the old lady, has been arrested, and the police are hard at work ferreting out the facts of the case. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive for the crime.

The old lady recently sold a house for $1,850. There is considerable blood on the pantaloons of wm. Blaney. He accounts for its presence by "noss bleed." The murder of Mrs. Blaney and her daughter must have been done quickly. No cry was heard. The discovery was made by James M. Blaney, who lives with his daughter at No. 620 East Biddle street. It was customary for him, he said, to "drop into a neighboring saloon for a nip mornings and afterwards to have a chat with his mother and sister," who lived together at 1035 Greenmount avenue. When he entered their house this morning he was horrified to find their dead bodies on the floor of the kitchen in a pool of blood and with their skulls crushed. He promptly gave the alarm and the police at once went to work on the case. They are endeavoring to fasten the crime upon the grandson under arrest.

DAUSE OF THE SHORTAGE IN THE ARMY

Cookrail's Proposition—No Information on the Behring Sea Negotiations—Kan-aus City's Public Building—Approved by Secretary Windom—Fersonal Notes— Washington News.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispaton.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—The deficiency of $40,000 in the army mileage account for the current year has prompted the Senate Comof $40,000 in the army mileage account for the sourcest year has prompted the Senate Committee on Appropriations, before which the army appropriation bill is now pending, to look around for some means of putting a stop to this annual eleptrace.

Senator Cockrell is the prime mover in the matter. In his opinion the present rates of 4 cents per mile and actual transportation are too high, and instead of raising the total amount from 3180,000 annually to $200,000, as has been proposed, he is endeavoring to secure a modification of the law so as to prevent an officer from receiving more than the actual expenses of a trip. The present rates, he holds, are rather in the nature of an emolument than an actual reimbursement for moneya expended in traveling. He proposes an amendment, which the committee is now seriously thinking about adopting, substituting a per diem allowance for officers traveling in lieu of mileage. He considers 54 per day and actual car fare a reasonable sum to cover all the expenses of an officer making a journey either by rail or water. This is the system in vogue in the English government. The per diem allowance would undoubtedly make a big saving in any traveling expenses. Under present rates an officer traveling from Washington to Chicago received about $32 in addition to actual railroad fare, while under the terms proposed this amount would be reduced to about $3. It is entirely probable that Mr. Gockrell's motion will prevail, notwithstanding the fact that the War Department is fighting against any change.

The Shipping League's Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3,-Mr. Frye from nstructed by that committee to report two important bills. The first bill was to place the American merchant marine engaged in foreign trade on an equality with that of other nations. This, he proceeded to say, is the bill known as the folipping League tomage bill. The shipping League is extended along the Gulf coast, along the Atlantic coast, along the Pacific coast and along the lakes. They have a membership of one or two hundred thousand important men. They have been engaged for five or six years, in investigating the matter of the revival of the merchant marine. They finally agreed upon a bill which, in their opinion, would have the desired result. And this is practically the bill on which they agreed. It has been reported to the House from the House Committee on Merchant Marine, and the Senate Committee on Commerce has adopted it with but few amendments. It is reported an an original bill. mportant bills. The first bill was to place

The cost of this bill, according to the Commissioner of Navigation, would probably be for the first year between $3,000,000 and $3,500,000, and would increase in his optnion, within six years $5,000,000 to $6,000,000. The bill would save the bedple of the United States many millions for every million that it would cost. It had been supported by resolutions of mumerable boards of trades and chambers of commerce, by the National Grange and by the Farmers' National Alliance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—All parties to a strict silence and it is very difficult to get question. So far as has been learned, no agreement has been reached, no sealing regulations formulated, no modus vivendi for the season just opening in Behring Sea proposed or accepted, and no policy adopted by either side in respect of the interruption caused by the arrival of a sealing season while negotiations are under way and unsettled. The only direct answer that could be obtained anywhere to persistent questions was that the negotiations were still in the initial stage and the outlook was satisfactory to all appearances. The revenue cutters and sealing vessels in Behring Sea will be left to settle their own conduct and status without directions emanating from Washington. The Russo-Anglo-American sealing regulations will be question. So far as has been learned, no

That Clerical Error.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3 .- The discovery of an error in giving the date of Presiden Harrison's proclamation of last year opening to settlement a portion of the opening to settlement a portion of the Territary of Oklahoma in the bill providing a temporary government for the Territory, which was signed by the Fresident yesterday afternoon, was brought to the attention of Mr. Springer, one of the Conference Committee which prepared the bill in the form it passed Congress. He says the error will not affect the law as a whole; that it will stand and the Government of the Territory will be established as intended. If the clause containing the error is held to be invalid, Mr. Springer says the only effect will be to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to issue patents to elaimants under the homestead law for land anywhere within the Territory, instead of being restricted to the limits of the isind opened to settlement by the terms of the proclamation of the President of March 23, 1889.

The Senator has intimated that as a member of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds in the Senate he may have something to eay about some of the Republican building measures before they go through. This has had the effect of giving the Kansas City bill in the House an unexpected boom, and it will likely go through.

The story leading up to the identification of the missing property is interesting. It seems that a crook named Shay atole the watch or in some way got it into his possession. He took it to East St. Louis and pawned it at the shop of a Hebrew named Abrams, whose junk shop in East St. Louis was notorious. Shay lived in East St. Louis was found a pawn ticket calling for a watch. Abrams had moved from East St. Louis and could not be located. DISTINGUISHED PROPLE AT THE RECEP TION GIVEN TO STANLEY.

Subject-Statistics of the Pasteur Institute-Results of the Many Experiment -The Westminster Abbey Commission To Aid Maj. Wissmann's Operations

LONDON, May 3.—A reception was given Henry M. Stanley yeaterday by the Emin Belief Commission at which the Prince of Wales presided. In the name of the English people he welcomed the traveler. Stanley made a neat reply and explained has actions in Africa, which have been criticised. Present at the reception webs the Prince of Wales, Princess Victoria, the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, Prince Christian, Prince Albert Victor. Prince George, the Duke of Fife, the Lord Mayor of London and a large number of distinguished persons.

Another reception will be given him next week by Lord Salisbury. The statement that Stanley is soon to become a British citizen is untrue, as it would cause the loss of his copyright-in America on his latest book.

Father Schinze, the German missionary who is responsible for many of the statements affecting Stanley's motives and methods in his rescue of Emin, has joined Emin's expedition.

PARIS, May 3.-Statistics for the first five years of the existence of the Pasteur Institute have just left the printer's hand and are on their way broadcast over the civilized world. July 6, 1885, Joseph Meister was brought to Paris, hardly able to waik after being torn by a mad dog. Up to that time Pasteur had never dared experiment upon man or woman with the terrible virus, which in an attenuated form had time and again succeeded with animals. The boy lived and went back to Alsace strong and well, and is to-day as sturdy alad as one could wish to see. Since then the Pasteur method has gone round the world, and savery year sawing thousands of lives in both hemispheres. Between January 1, 1886, and December 31, 1889, not less than 7,833 persons had been bitten by mad dogs and a treated at the Pasteur Institute. Of these, fifty-three died. In striking contrast to this among persons bitten by mad dogs and not treated by the Pasteur method. Physicians are unanimous in placing this persons actually treated, 1,265 would, but for this great discovery, have died. Pasteur can, therefore, have the satisfaction of knowing that more than twelve hundred lives have been saved by his institute alone during the past five years. It appears furthermore that of all the departments of France, it is that of the Selie which is most subject to hydrophobia. This is accounted for by the immense number of dogs which roam about Paris and its environs. As a remedy for this state of things, vigorous measures are urged and enforced by the police regarding stray dogs and dogs known to have been bitten by mad dogs. Another fact demonstrated by the statistics is that it is not in summer, as is generally supposed, that hydrophobia is most to be feared, but in the pring, from February to May.

THE MARCH TO THE STEAMER.

Promptly at 12:30 e clock the column moved aprilward on Market street to the Levee, where the steamer Oliver Blerne was in waiting. When the column had been taken on board the steamer moved up stream to the eastern approach of the bridge, where the passengers were landed. The steamer then returned and was boarded by a large number of the members of the Merchants' Exchange, accompanied by their families, boarded it and at 2 o'clock it again moved up stream. In the meantime a number of passengers had gone by train to the bridge, and at 2:15 a great throng was assembled.

A GRAND GATHERENG.

The river presented a gay scene as the time for the opening ceremonies approached. A number of the largest steamers on the river had been chartered for the occasion, and were well crowded with excursionists. In addition to this, scores of tugs were chartered by private parties, and steamed toward the bridge. The river was gay with bunting, and the steamers saluted such other by shrill whistles as they moved up stream. Arriving at the bridge, they were drawn up in a long line, extending from one shore to the other. Great as was the number of those moved up stream. Arriving at the bridge, they were drawn up in a long line, extending from one shore to the other. Great as was the number of those going to the scene of festivity by river, it was far less than that which took the special trains along the Levee. It is long since such a throng has been seen on the river front as that which assembled to-day. The trains were filled almost as soon as they drew up, while the Broadway and other street car lines were crowded by the sightseers.

At 10:30 Gov. Fifer left Springfield on a Chicago & Alton special, and arrived at the sastern terminus of the bridge at 1:15. Gov. Fifer was accompanied by the following staff: Secretary H. G. Reeves, Adjutant-General J. W. Vance, Assistant Adjutant-General George C. Rankin, Col. V. Warner, Judge Advocate; Col. F. L. Matthews, Surgeon-General; Col. Gaines Lawson, U. S. The party was received by a delegation of officers of the Merchants' Bridge and Terminal companies and conducted to the special train prepared for them.

A CARFUL INSPECTION

of the bridge was made this morning before the arrival of the crowd who came to witness the inaugural ceremonies. At 10 o'clockjengine No. 8 of the Terminal Co. left the foot of Mound street on a tour of inspection. A flat ear was attached, earrying a party consisting of Resident Engineer Parkhufst; E. L. Cortirell, the contracting engineer; H. W. Gays, A. Sherman, General Manager of the Wiggin's Ferry Co.; and C. D. Ingraham of the Wabash. The engine was in charge of Yardmaster Wm. Meyer. The train proceeded slowly over the bridge, making frequent stops for the purposes of inspection, ran to the end of the line, and then returned to its starting point, the trip taking just an hour. The result of the inspection was most satisfactory as every bolt and rive was found to be in its place, and

With the first gun every teamer and locomotive opened its hrottle and the steam whistles soreamed on ill sides, while a thundering cheer arcse from the assembled multitude. During the height of the tumult the Governors of Missouri and illinois shook hands across the division between the two engines and Miss Cobb broke a class of the same over the bridge, thus illines shook hands across the books a tween the two engines and Miss Cobb broke a bostle of champagne over the bridge, thus shristening it. Speeches were next in order. D. R. Francis made the first address and was followed by Gov. Fifer. The speech of the day was delivered by ex-Gov. E. O. Stanard, who reviewed the history of St. Louis and predicted the beginning of a vew era. The addresses were closed with a few remarks from Gen. J. M. Palmer of Illiuois, at the close of which the two trains proceaded to the Missouri shore.

History of the Bridge. The St. Louis Merchants' Bridge and it associate enterprise, the St. Louis Merchants Bridge Terminal Railway, were inaugurated Bridge Terminal Railway, were inaugurated by the Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis in 1866, and all efforts to secure the necessary franchises from the United States Government and the City of St. Louis for building this bridge and its terminals were conducted under the auspices of this Exchange, and at the request of its officers, and by committee of the Exchange, composed of S. W. Cobb. C. C. Rainwater, John R. Holmes, John Whittaker, D. R. Francis, John D. Perry and John M. Gilbeson.

the request of its officers, and by committee of the Exchange, composed of S. W. Cobb. C. O. Rainwater, John R. Holmes, John Whittaker, D. R. Francis, John D. Perry and John M. Gilkeson.

The efforts of this committee were successful in obtaining a charter from Congress, approved by the President February S. 1887, and a terminal franchise from the city of St. Louis, dated June 9, 1887.

When a report was made to the Merchants' Exchange that a charter had been obtained from the United States Government the directors of the Exchange adopted a resolution tendering to the incorporators of the Exchange debarred it from in any way becoming financially identified with the enterprise, but the Board of Directors promised all the aid in their power.

"The St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Co." had in the meantime filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of the State of Illinois. S. W. 80bb, C. C. Rainwater, John M. Gilkeson and John R. Holmes were the incorporations were empowered to open books for subscription for the capital stock. The company incorporated for ninety-nine years.

In order to carry out fully the object of the enterprise, and to build and maintain the necessary terminal tracks, and to provide adequate terminals for the operation of the incorporated according to provisions of art. 2, of chap, 21 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Missouri, under the name of the St. Louis approved July 9, 1887, by which Seth W. Cobb, Charles C. Rainwater, John D. Perry, John M. Gilkeson, John R. Holmes and their associates, successors and assigns, when duly incorporated according to provisions of art. 2, of chap, 21 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Missouri, under the name of the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Terminal Railway Co. were authorized to construct, maintain and operate a railway with double tracks, standard gauge, with all necessary sidings and ever certain streets and intersecting streets, alleys and olty blocks as described completely in the ordinance. The route described in this ordinance begins

Railway Co. and an amidavit of its directors were filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Missouri, who certified to such filing. This association was formed under provisions of art. 2, chap. 29, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Missouri. The duration of the corporation is flity years, and the length of the railway fourteen miles.

ENGINEERS WERE ENGAGED to make a careful survey, plans, estimates and a report on the feasibility and probable cost of constructing a bridge and approaches and terminat tracks. The report was satisfactory to the directors of the company, and the engineers, Messrs. Morrison and Corthell, were authorized to present plans for building the bridge to the Secretary of War for approval. This approval was obtained November 16, 1888, and the bridge was built under their supervision. On January 1, 1889, the capital stock of the bridge company was increased from $500,000 to $2,000,000 and the number of directors increased from seven to nine. An issue of first mortgage bonds amounting to $2,000,000, secured by a deed of trust to the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. of New York, was made February 1, 1889, and the same day the bridge was leased for forty years to the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Terminal Railway. Co. The capital stock of the latter company was increased November 28, 1889, from $1,000,000 to $1,000,000 and at the same time $2,000,000 worth first mortgage bonds were issued by the company, secured by a deed of trust to the St. Louis Trust Co. The contract for the main bridge and 425 feet of steel approaches on each end was lest to the Union Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. of New York City and the Phenix Bridge Co. o

DESCRIPTION OF THE BRIDGE,
The entire bridge and approaches is built for a double track railway and it has no footway or wagon road.

Limestone from Bedford, Ind., was used to within three feet of the low water line; above this level to the high water line Missouri granite was used, and above this Bedford limestone. The dimension limestone was laid is Fortiand cement mortar, and the backing in Louisville cement. The clear height in the center of the central span is fifty-two feet above high water, instead of fifty feet, as required by the act of Congress, and the height at the end of the shore spans is about four inches below this height.

The style of the three spans of the main bridge is a double intersection pin-connected truss with horizontal bottom chord and a curved top chord. The entire structure is of steel, except pedestals and ornamental parts, which are of cast iron, and nuts, swivels and clevises, which are of-wrought iron.

The steel was required to stand an ultimate ensite strain in the sample har of from 63,000 to 70,000 pounds per square inch, with an elastic limit of not less than 38,000 pounds.

UDGE KLEIN DECIDES AN INTERESTING

Against Six Other Heirs—Other Rulings by Judge Klein—Mrs. Rose Fergusen Again a Victor—More Changes of Venue —Legal Notes.

A decision involving an interesting point of law, and upon which the ownership of near $40,000 depended, was rendered by Judge Klein this morning in construing the will of Charles Bauer, who died in September, 1884. He left a will in which he disposed of his estate in equal parts to his simbohildren and wife, but directed that the share of his youngest son, Charles, Jr., should be held in youst until the legates should come of age, when one-fourth of his share was to be paid, and the rest of his share when he became $2 \text{ years old. When A decision involving an interesting point of a will giving his estate to his wife, and made her executrix and sole legatee. The trustee being in doubt what to do, applied to the courts to have the will construed and the beneficiary ascertained. The heirs at law claimed that by Charles' death under 25, the legacy to him lapsed and became part of Bauer, Sr. estate, while young Bauer's widow, who was represented by Win. F. Woerner, claimed that the legacy had become vested in her husband and passed to her under his will. Judge Klein took this view of the matter and decreed that the trustee should pay the same to the widow. He quoted from a number of Supreme Court decisions from other States in which it is clearly stated that where a legacy is given to an heir when he or she becomes of age, but is not to enjoy the fail benefit of it until later, the title to the property given is given in fee and had Charles Bauer, Jr., so desired, he could have secured his entering sult in any court of law.

The idea is that if one trade at a time is all that goes out the others with very little hardship to themselves can supply them with funds that will enable them TO CARRY ON THE FIGHT indefinitely and force their employers to eventually give in to their demands. It was determined that the carpenters should be the first trade to make the demand, but they were instructed not to go out until after May 1 or the aid of the American Federation of Labor would not be extended to them. All other trades were ordered to remain at work until instructed to go out. The American Federation of Labor will support strikers only where eight hours' work a day is the point at issue. Where the men strike for other grievances they will receive no financial aid from the organization, it being the intention to force the adoption of the sight-hours' work-a-day plan before anything else is taken up and to let no other issue interfere with its success. As soon as the question is decided so far as the carpenters are concerned, the Federation after settling up the affairs of that strike will inaugurate another. The miners are the next class of workers who will go out. All local carpenters' organizations have the privilege of compromising with their employers if they desire, and not going out on a strike. This was the case in New York where the carpenters, who had been working ten bours a day, compromised with their bosses on nine hours for a day's work to one stime thours on situe.

In all probability a carpenters' strike will e inaugurated in this city Monday. When the American Federation of Labor decided to fight for the adoption of the eight hour system, they determined that the fight should not be inaugurated before May 1 Their plan was to let each trade make the fight separate, so that while they were out the other trades could be drawn upon to supply them with the necessary means of support until they had gained their point. have national unions of their own, and the American Federation of Labor is a sort of supreme council or union of all these various national unions. The St. Louis carpenters have asked for the assistance of the Carpenters' National Union in their coming strike and are said to have received a pledge of it, so that they will get aid from that quarter, although not from the Federation of Labor. The carpenters claim that the local union is very strong and seem to have little doubt about their ability to secure their demands. They state that nearly all carpenters in the city belong to the union and the few that are not can easily be brought in.

Astrike among the German compositors is also a possibility of the near future. They want a uniform system of wages. Some of the German newspapers pay union rates while others do not. It is expected, however, that a settlement of the matter will be effected without any resort to a strike.

ONE of the four remaining opportuni ties to secure votes for favorite teachers will occur to-morrow.

Gov. HILL escaped the pit which the New York Republicans dug for him by signing the ballot-reform bill.

NEXT week's leadership of the ladyteacher contest will probably be determined by the ballots in to-morrow's Sun DAY POST-DISPATCH.

According to Ben Butler, taking mortgage on a farm is as good as buying it. On the subject of mortgages and money lending in general BUTLER is undoubtedly first-class authority.

THE monopoly masters of the Republican party will gladly consent to the President's signing of the anti-trust bill in return for the assurance that he will sign the McKinley blll or "something equally as good" for them.

REPRESENTATIVES BLAND of Missouri and Sayres of Texas have declined to take the money stolen from them by SIL. COTT and awarded them out of the Treas. ury by the Court of Claims. It has been turned, therefore, into the conscience fund. If there are many consciences in Congress the fund will increase rapidly within the next few days.

Congress is dealing with a delicate matter in the bill permitting the Montana Mineral Co. to construct a railway through a part of Yellowstone Park. The bill involves the question of preserving the park from intrusion by any railway company which may desire to run through it. If the right to cross the park is given to one railway why not to another? Where in justice can the line be drawn?

marks the Globe-Democrat, referring to the Merchants' Bridge banquet, "the programme of toasts will be carried out." In the murky haze which surrounds its knowledge of French the Globe-Democrat cannot distinguish fully between the gaming and the banquet table. It is a great newspaper in its proper sphere, but tossing off French phrases is not its proper sphere.

THE four hundred of Gotham are shuddering with horror at the prospect of WARD MCALLISTER, JR., the son of their uncrowned king, becoming a partner in a firm of wine and liquor merchants. It shocks them to think of the great name of WARD MCALLISTER, the owner of which holds the key to social recognition in swelldom, and is "the glass of fashion and the mold of form," figuring on a plain street sign before such a degrading nd of trade as "Wine and Liquor Deal-"And yet the four hundred cannot as PUBLIC interest in the trip-to-Europe contest of the schoolmistresses continues to gather intensity as the close of the voting approaches. The ceaseless stream of ballots grows in volume every day and the changing list shows how earnestly the friends of the teachers are laboring to place them at the top. The contest is fast culminating. After to-morrow only three more vote Sundays will remain and the final efforts to win the rich prizes must be made within that time.

DIRECTOR-GENERAL BERGER of the Paris Exposition estimates that a World's Exposition which will reflect credit upon the United States and compare favorably with that of Paris will cost $17,000,000. This is more than the cost of the Paris Exposition, but much was already prepared for it. The Chicagoans are doubtless beginning to realize the magnitude of the work which they have undertaken and what enormous expenditures of money and intelligent energy are required to win success.

THE signing of the ballot-reform bill provides New York State with the most complete electoral reform laws which have been placed upon the statute books of any State in the Union. In that bill the wisdom of the modifiation of the Australian ballot system, which permits the voter to fix his ballot before going to far better than no law at all. On the other hand amendments to the corrupt practices bill, holding campaign committees responsible for their election expenditures and limiting the amounts which may be expended in elections, are of the utmost importance and will undoubtedly be adopted in time. As the laws now stand, however, a long step toward the purification of New York elections has

Dr. Priest examined the man this morning and found that he was undoubtedly instinct. His mania was the stage and he kept all of the other inmates of the hold-over awake last night with his passionate declamations. He is continually rehearsing some part which he thinks he is to play and seems to be afraid that he will be late at the theater.

Bamiler is an upholsterer by trade and has been employed for a few months by Mr. Dailey, in front of whose place he was found. He is a single man. 37 years of age, and came to St. Louis from Buffalo. N. Y., two years ago. He was sent to the Insane Asylum this afternoon. Dr. Priest thinks proper treatment of the case will effect a permanent cure.

He Thinks He's a Preacher.

Pat Mallen, the unfortunate who was taken vesterday afternoon by Sergt. Fox and officer Collins while preaching salvation to a crowd of spectators at the corner of Broadway and Olive streets, was examined by Dr. Priest last evening. He was found to be suffering more from the effects of liquor than anything else and was sent to the City Hospital for treatment. Mallen had not been in the hospital an hour before he made his escape. His mania seems to be religion and to humble himself he always removes his shoes before beginning to preach. When first arressed his footgear was found in the gutter. As soon as his escape was noted yesterday evening hospital attendants were sent out. Mallon was found trudging along the streetja faw blocks away, carrying his shoes in one hand and emphasizing his address to the pedestrians by profound and stately gestures with the other. He was returned to his quarters in the hospital. cer Collins while preaching salvation to a SERIOUS FUN.

The Courts to Decide Whether or Not San uel Davis Is Married,

NEW YORK, May 3 .- Samuel Davis, a young clerk for a West Side dry goods house, will appear in the Brooklyn City Court next Monappear in the Brooklyn City Court next Monday to hear Chief Justice Clement decide whether or not he is a married man. Five years ago last February Davis, while out of a job, amused himbell by going to public dances in Williamsburg, where he was then living. He became acquainted with Anna C. Flunkett of 33 Marcy avenue, Brooklyn, at one of these dances, took her to a Rockaway pionic and with a friend escorted her and her sister to a ball early in March. During a pause in the dancing some one in the party dared everyone else to go and get married. Anna Plunkett and Davis accepted the "dare." They went to the parsonage of the Methodist Protestant Church, and were married by Rev. J. J. White. The other Miss Plunkett would not marry Davis' friend. All four thought the ceremony a big joke. They went back and danced out the ball, and the young men left the young women at the door of their Marcy avenue home. Davis took Miss Plunkett to several other dances, and at the end of the Williamsburg season came to New York to live. Miss Plunkett remained as Miss Plunkett in Brooklyn. Davis never lived with her. About a year ago Davis' friends who knew of his escapade heard he was about to marry a New York young woman and that his marriage in fun might cause him some trouble. They explained his predicament to a lawyer. "Miss Plunkett is awyor washi, ilk. ipavis of Brooklyn," said Mr. H. R. Kinghorn, Samuei IDavis present counsel, yeasterday. "He made a proposition to Davis to settle for $200. Davis said he had no meney and H. B. Davis had him arrested for abandoning his alleged wife, Miss Plunkett. The case was brought before Justice Waish in Brooklyn, who, in view of the fact that Miss Plunkett was earning some $10 a week and not liable therefore to become a charge on the county, released him. Last April Davis came to me with his trouble and I bronght an action in equity to have the marriage ceremony declared null and void. The action is on the special term calendar for next Monday." day to hear Chief Justice Clement decide

GRATIFYING RESULTS OF THE CRUISE OF

THE TORPEDO BOAT CUSHING

May 8. - The United States Government torpedo boat Cushing broke the ment torpea.

Cushing broke the record on Thursday from Newport to New York, making the run in 6h. 57m., thus breaking the time of the steam yacht Now-ade nearly then, made nearly three years ago, by seven minutes. She did this in the face of the fact that her crew is composed entirely of her famous record on July 12, 1887, had everything in her favor. She awaited clear day, when the wind was her favor, and she started at 11 o'clock! In side. The Cushing did not leave for Fort Adams, Newport, until 1:43 Thursday after-noon. It had been the intention to start at p steam. As soon as she got out into the pen sea a stiff breeze set her to dancing upon the choppy waves and for two hours she had ooth waves and wind against her. After nother fact that makes the Cushing's achievement remarkable is that she burned hard coal. A boat that goes in for record breaking carries soft coal. In the case of the Cushing a difference in the kind of coal is estimated at one and one-haif vorable circumstances of wind and tide Lieut. Winslow, who commands the Cushing, estimates that he could reduce the rec-

The contractors first gave her a trial, and fater in March she was efficially tested 'by Govern ment officers on the Government course in Narragansett Bay. The contract called for a speed of twenty-two and a haif knots per hour. On April 23 she was accepted by the Government and Lieut. Cameron Mcfae Winslow was placed in command. She has a complement of sixten men and four officers, including the Captain. Since her acceptance by the Government she has been cruising about in Narragansett Bay getting her crew into condition. On Wednesday she broke a record for a starter, making the run from Newport to Bristol, about twelve and one-haif miles, in 30m. and lbs., an average of 21 7-10 knots per hour. Her trip of Thursday was her first long run. She was tied up all day yesterday in the Brooklyn navy yard. She is on her way to Washington and her purpose in putting in here was to take on coal. She will leave Brooklyn at 10 o'clock this mogning and will take it easy on the trip to Washington, steaming at the rate of 14 or 15 knots per hour. Arriving there she will await orders from the Secretary of the Navy.

The Cushing is 138 long, over all, and she draws 5 feet 3 inches of water, Her depth from the crown of the deck and ship to the keel is 10 feet and her breadth of beam 15 feet. Her displacement when loaded with ten tons of coal amounted to 117 tons. She can carry 39 tons of coal, with which she could steam 4,000 miles at 10 knots per hour or 600 knots when going at full speed. Economy of space was tons of coal, with which she could steam 4,000 miles at 10 knots per hour or 600 knots when going at full speed. Economy of space was one of the chief objects in view on the part of Springs, after a sojourn of three months.

Miss Alice Masten spent a few days with her friend, Miss Skalnker, at her country home. Mrs. William E. Sisson returned on Thursday from a visit to her cousins in Quincy, Ill.

Mrs. Laurence Browning, who has been visiting her mother at Marion. Ill. has returned in the compartments. The lower decks fore and aft are entered only by hatchways. She has full bunkers all along her sides, abreast of her engines. Her only other protection is her pumping machinery. She can pump 100 tons aft are entered only by hatchways. She has full bunkers all along her sides, abreast of her engines. Her only other protection is her pumping machinery. She can pump 100 tons of water in seven minutes, 870 tons per hour and her own weight in less than ten minutes. If she should have a shot hole 9 inches in diameter through her engine-room compartment, her pumping capacity would enable her to keep free from water. When equipped she will carry a torpedo tube on each bow and a torpedo gun amidship and will thus be able to launch three torpedoes at once. She will carry five rapid-fire one-pounder canone, and will have a search light. She is built with twin screws and quadruple expansion engines. There are more than three miles of tubes in her boiler and more than one miles in her condenser. It is estimated that on her official trip she developed more than one thousand seven hundred horse power. The diameter of her turning circle is only 250 feet. She can be propelled astern as well as forward, and has made over seventeen miles an hour while going in that way. The vessel is painted a French gray, which renders her almost invisible at a distance, even by day. The Cushing is one of the strongest boats ever built. Her commander Converse. She was named after Lieut. Cushing of the navy, who sank the rebel cruiser Albemarle.

HER COMMANDER'S OPINION.

"I would not hesitate to say," remarked Lieut. Winslow, last evening, "that the Cushing under favorable conditions, cond run iwenty-two and one-haif knots per hour all day long. I have seen the vessel make twenty-four and twenty-three one hundreths knots which is equivalent to twenty-eight miles, and then she was going under a steam pressure of only 243 pounds, which is seven pounds less than she was edispaed to carry in her high pressure cylinder. Her boller has been tested at the rate of 520 pounds to the square light. She ought to be able to make the distance between New York and Newport at the rate of twenty-two and one-haif knots per hour with hard coal and twenty-two a

THE COUCH MURDER TRIAL.

Testimony of the Deceased Captain's Sen-Clear Account of the Crime. OKLAHOMA, I. T., May 3.—The trial of J. C. Adams for the murder of Caps. W. L. Couch entered on its second day yesterday. Ira Couch, son of the murdered man, was on the stand all day, and told a story identical in every detail with that of his father's just before his death. Capt. Couch in this statement said he and his son Ira went to the lot claimed by Adams on the morning of April 4, 1880, and found his fance down. While putting it up Adams came from his home, 500 yards away, with a club, and with curses ordered Couch and his son away, saying he would knock their brains out. He raised his club and Couch caught him around the waist. He dropped the club and pulled a revolver. He pointed it at Couch and oulled the trigger, but the revolver would not work and Couch covered him with a revolver. He ordered Adams to throw the revolver away or he would kill him and Adams did so. Couch piscod his revolver in his pocket and Adams ran to his house. He repoked and retreated, Adams following. At the time of his death it was supposed that he had left a will bequesthing the bulk of his fortune to a few favorite relatives, who lived with him. The delay, however, in producing a will caused some of the other heirs to begin an investigation. They made application for letters of administration on the theory that Mr. Davis died intestate. The Court decided Tuesday that the will supposed to have been made by Mr. Davis ten years ago had been destroyed and letters of administration were issued to John A. Davis, his brother. According to this decision the estate will be divided into eleven parts. Mrs. Sheffield, who comes into a fortune by this decision, is about 40 years old. She has helped to support her family by keeping boarders. This is the first aid she has received from her wealthy relative and her good fortune almost takes her breath away. She heard of her uncle's death through a Western newspaper. The article said that A. J. Davis had died childless and without making a will. Mrs. Sheffield angaged Martin J. Keogh of New Rochelle to investigate this rumor. Mr. Keogh found that Mr. Davis had died intestate and that the other heirs had already taken steps toward claiming their share of the estate Mr. Davis' remains were interred at Munson, Mass., and shortly after the funeral meeting of relatives was held in Springfield, Mass. It was thought the estate had been left to Erwin Davis, Mrs. Ellen Cornu of New York and Andrew J. Father Arlens waited fuily fifteen minutes for the man to return. Opening the parlor door, he was dismayed to discover the room empty. Men, trunk and money were gone. To report the matter to the police would give it publicity, which he wished to avoid, and he knew he could not give an accurate description of the men. He confided the matter to a few of his parishioners, however, and now the affair is generally known about the city. The baby is still at the parochial residence, where it is being tenderly cared for, but every time it cries the good priest is reminded by the sound of the manner in which he was imposed upon. Nothing has been heard of the two men, though strenuous efforts are being made to find them.

NEW YORK, May 4.—By a decision rendered in a Montana court last Tuesday Mrs. Harriet Sheffield, the wife of a carpenter in New Rochelle, falls heir to $410,000. She is a niece of Andrew J. It is there said that information has been received that he committed the same offenses in other places where he was employed as school teacher. This is not officially known.

Thomas Fitzmorris Went About His Usual Haunts Until Prestrated.

A 10-year-old boy, Henry Hageman, is under arrest at the Fourth District Police Station, held to await the result of the injuries which he inflicted on Thomas Fitzmorrie. The latter is in the City Hospital suffering with a ractured skull. Fitzmorris is a laborer, rectured skull. Fixmorris is a majorer, 21 years old and lives with his parents at 119 Mullanphy street. Hageman's home is at 1618 North Second street. I appears that on the evening of April 23 a number of boys and young men were in front of 1609 North Second street, when Fixmorris began to tease young Hageman. The latter stood the abuse for some time, but finally, after he had been several times cuffed about the head and face, he picked up a piece of drain pipe which layin the street and threw it at his tormentor. The missile struck Fixmorris on the head. Hageman ran away. Fixmorris paid but little attention to the blow until yesterday when he complained of a severe pain in the head. He rapidly grew worse, and his parents called an ambulance and had him taken to the City Hospital. There an examination showed that his skull was badly fractured. Young Hageman was arrested at his home. Fixmorris at the latest account was in a critical condition. It is probable that he will make an ante-mortem statement to the officers this afternoon. 21 years old and lives with

POLICE OFFICER FOOLED. Another Reported Union Avenue Mystery

Which Proved a Boax. Some unknown man played a good joke on day night. It was about 9:30 o'clock, and the blue coats were on their way down Easton avenue to roll call, when a stranger rushed up them and between his gasps told a wild, weird tale.

He would not give his name, as he did not want to be mixed up in the affair. He said, however, that he lived on Union avenue. His want to be mixed up in the affair. He said, however, that he lived on Union avenue. His two daughters, while crossing the grounds of the Gay estate, on Union avenue near Page, had come upon an abandoned well. Peering into the murky depths, they had seen a naked body, and had rushed away home almost speechless with fright.

This was enough for the officers. Putting spurs to their horses they dashed away to the Fifth District Station and reported what they had heard to Sergt. Purcell. That visination officer, with visions of another terrible mystery added to those surrounding the cases of Anna Welss, John Henry Behrens and Farmer Placht floating before his eyes, made hasty preparations for the trip to the fated locality? Armed to the teeth and carrying a bewildering assortment of ropes, innterns, poles and grappling hooks, the three started for the Gay place.

They soon arrived. It was then almost midnight. The well was found and work commended. It was a ghostly scene.

The three blue coats, with blanched faces and fearfully expectant eyes bulging from their sockets, lighted the lanterns, uncolled the ropes and fixed the grappling irons. For an hour they worked and spoke never a word. At last the Iron made fast and the sergeant commenced the pull. Up came the Iron with its plastly load. They had found the body—there was no doubt about that—and the three pressed forward in eages haste to scan the disfigured face.

One gisnes was enough, and they fell back

WHO WILL BE CANDIDATES IF VACANCIES ARE CREATED TUESDAY.

Mr. Bartholdt Says He Will Run Again Ne Matter Who Is Brought Out by the Opposition-The Aulerites' Candidate in the First District Will Be Julius Bonger and in the Fourth Mr. Fred W. Bierbaum,

Now that the School Board fight in the courts is coming to an end the question of how the vacancies created will be filled is receiving a great deal of consideration. The death of Mr. August Reimler leaves a vacancy in the Fourth District, and should Messrs. Macklin, Rogers, Bartholdt and Boliman all be ouste by the Court of Appeals there would be five directors to be chosen. Election will only be held in the districts, as under the Drabelle law vacanoies in the directorships-atlarge will be filled by appoint-ment. The Court of Appeals is expected to hand down its decision next Tuesday and until then School Board affairs will be quiet. There is some doubt even among the leading Millerites as to whether Mr. Macklin will be ousted, but Mr. Rogers' tax receipts are not considered even by his friends as giving an assurance that he will be allowed to remain in the board.

Mr. Richard Bartholdt in speaking to a Post-DISPATCH reporter this morning about what the programme of the Aulerites would be "No special meeting of the board will be held to call an election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of August Reimler. We propose to wait quietly and see whether the Court of Appeals will create any more vacan ies next Tuesday. If the court should decide against Mr. Bollman and myself then an elec cles next tuesday. It the contestantia decide against Mr. Bollman and myself then an election will be held in the First, Fourth and Sixth Districts at the same time."

"Will sylve run again if yon are ousted?"

"Most assuredly I will."

"Would you expect to be elected?"

"Yes, and by an overwhelming majority."

"Yould you qualify in case the Court of Appeals should decide that your are at present ineligible?"

"I do pot see myself on what grounds they can deciare me 'ineligible, except on the grounds that I paid two years' taxes at once, and if they should make such a ruling as that eighteen members of the board would be disqualified. However, I could pay a real estate tax for 1898 and then I would be invincible. I have not made up my mind yet whether I would even do that or not in case they decided against me. I feel that I am perfectly eligible as I stand, and may go before the people on that platform."

"Have you heard any talk about who will be run against you in case you should be ousted?"

"I heard that the Millerites were trying to indee the Www. Keenix to make the race.

ousted?"
"I heard that the Millerites were trying to induce Mr. Wm. Koenix to make the race, but I don't think he will do so. I saw nim the other day and asked him whether he would run and he answered that he was up to his neck in private business, and would be for a year and a half. However, for all that, they may prevail on him to run."

'If he should come out would you make the "In a should come out would you make the race?"

"I most certainly will. I waited until the eleventh hour before I announced my candidacy before, hoping that Mr. Koenig would consent to run again. I tried to induce him to do so myself, knowing what a valuable man he had proven in the board, but it would not make any difference to me whether he came oft now or not. I propose to run. It is a matter of principle with me. I want to know whether the people of my district do or do not think that I am a good enough man to represent them in the St. Louis School Board."

"Any vacancy created by the ousting of a do not think that I am a good enough man to represent them in the St. Louis School Board."

"Any vacancy created by the ousting of a member-at-large will be filled by appointment, will it not?"

"Oh, yes; of course, the Miller men are in the majority, and they would not let that opportunity of increasing their humber pass. I conject which we would be only boo willing to get an expression fof popular opinion on the late School Boardfight."

CAN'T ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE.

Mr. Chas. F. Miller, the ex-President of the board and the leader of the faction which is now on top, as the saying is, when told of Mr. Barthold's challenge said:

"All I have to say that is that the Drabelle law recently declared constitutional by the Supreme Court, says that all vacancies at large shall be filled by appointment. It is mandatory; we have no option about it."

"Have only persons been talked about for the appointment?"

"I have only the heard one name mentioned, and that gentleman said he would not accept if he was given $5,000 a year."

"I know nothing about any district except my own, which is the Sixth, and, as far as that is concerned. I do not know as I shall take any part whatsoever in getting out any candidate, if Mr. Barthoidt is declared inellible."

"Has an effort been made to get Mr. Koeling out any candidate, if Mr. Barthoidt is declared inellible."

any part whatsoever in getting out any candidate, if Mr. Barthoidt is declared inellible."
"Has an effort been made to get Mr. Koenig out again?"
"That has been spoken of, but I do not think he will consent to run if Mr. Barthoidt does. Personality I can say that I would like to see him go back, because he is one of the best members the board ever had."

The eandidates of the Aulerites in the Fourth District and the First in case Mr. Boilman should be ousted will likely be Fred W. Bierbaum and Julius Bonger. Mr. Boilman Mis triends are confident, however, that he can be elected this time. Mr. Boilman His friends are confident, however, that he can be elected this time. Mr. Boilman will not probably seek re-election. Mr. Bierbaum, whom the Aulerites intend to bring out to succeed Mr. Reigher, is a well-known jewelry dealer in the Fourth District and is said to be popular. The Aulerites are confident that they can elect him by a big majority. Mr. F. W. H. Wiesehahn, who was spoken of for the nomination in this district, would not accept, it is said, as all his time is taken up by private business.

TREASURER FORESTEL'S PLAN TO PAY THE CITY EMPLOYES MONDAY.

Three Banks for That Purpose-Pros-pact of a Protracted Fight in the As-sembly Over the Appropriation Bill-

The falture of the Assembly to come to an rary appropriation bill last evening, proved have been waiting for their salaries since last Thursday. To-day the feeling of disgust among the city officials, clerks and employes is general. The Assembly is being roundly denounced for causing such a state of affairs, as well as the tions and then asked the appropria deficits. Many of the city amployes are said be in absolute want, particularly laborers, but steps, will unbitedly be taken to relieve them if the squabble in the Assembly continues. As the matter stands now the Assem bly will not meet before Tuesday night and as the Council refused last evening to appoint third conference committee, there will be no report ready when the meeting is opened. The House mem. bers stoutly insist that their position

The Council refused when it first took up the bill to appropriate money to make good the deficits in the Lafayette Park, House of Refuge, Marshal's office and other departments, on the ground that the heads of these departments exceeded their authority in running over their allowances and incurring debt. The argument used to convince the Council that these amounts ought to be allowed was that the bills would have to be paid eventually by the city and that time, trouble and annoyance would be saved by appropriating the accessary funds without compelling the claimants to wait for the passage of the general appropriation bill. The Council steadfastly refused to do so, but the House took a different position and amended the bill so as to include the amounts for the deficits after it had passed the Council. Comptroller Stevenson says the Council is only doing its duty in protesting against the custom of some of the department in exceeding their allowances. As the House is strongly wedded to the opposite side of the question the chances of an early jettlement of the dispute cannot be considered to the

He will, if he can possibly do so, pay them Monday, despite the fact that no skin, only on the color. This morning he made arrangements with the Laclede, Commercial and Boatman's Laclede, Commercial and Boatman and the Commercial $55,000 for the first men and the Commercial $55,000 for all other salaries excepting those of the employes who are in institutions where they receive board as well as saiary. To do this Treasurer Foerstel had to agree to pay interest on the money and give the necessary security. He acted as a clitzen in the whole transaction and as such is responsible. Speaking to a POST-DISPATCH reporter he said that he did not think it exactly right to hold back the saiaries of the city employes on account of the disagreement in the Assembly, and that he deemed it a good thing to make such an arrangement. "The interest will not amount to much," he said, "even if the controversy lasts a month, and I don't suppose for a minute it will continue a week longer. Then when the bill is passed and signed the money will be returned and nobody will be out, excepting the few dollars interest Lwill have to pay."

The victim of the Terre Hants tragedy of April 21 has been identified as Robert Neukam, a broom-maker, who used to work and board on North Sixth street. It will be remembered that last month the dead body of a man was discovered in Terre Haute. The man had evidently been murdered, and his murderer had strapped the body to a board. Thousands of people have visited the Morgue at Terre Haute without being able to give a ciue as to identification. Pictures of she man were sent all over the country, and one of these has lied to the victim being identified as Robert Naukam, victim being identified as Robert Naukam, who, in the spring of 1899, came to be Louis from Cincinnati and found work at the broom rom Cincinnati and found work at the broom snop of D. re Bevelations Before the Fassett Investi gating Committee—Startling Statement by the Witness—He Is Clear as to Name

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Senate Committee NEW YORK, May 3.—The Senate Committee on Cities, of which Mr. Fassett is chairman, set again in this city to-day to hear further developments concerning the workings of the city departments. As it was known that Mayor Grant would be a witness to exculpate himself from the charges made against him by Patrick McCann, the committee room was filled to the doors. Among those present were Corporation Counsel Deane, Pawnbroker McAllenan, who is said to have assisted Grant in political crisis; ex-Congressman J. Adams, Allenan, who is said to have assisted Gran in political crisis; cu-fongressman J. Adams, John D. Townsend, several aldermen and politiclans. Mayor Grant was present with W. Bourke Cochran, his counsel.

Chairman Fasset and other members of the committee were on hand early. Mr. Cockran opened the ball by saying that he had made no statement as published accusing the committee of suborning the porjured testimony of Mr. McCann. He had, however, said the suborning of such testimony should be published.

between for Grant and the Aldermen. It was so ordered.

Mr. McCann was again put on the stand and cross-examined by Mr. Cockran. He said Mr. Croker owed him $3,000, incurred for supplying groceries to Mr. Croker's family. The debt had been growing for seven or eight years. It was incurred before he took the Mt. St. Vincent restaurant, in 1885.

That $3,000 had been wiped out when he purchased the restaurant. Since then a debt of $4,000 has grown and is still growing for supplying Mr. Croker's family. He had kept a mourning goods store and had failed in 1879, but he did not include his full claim against Croker in his schedules.

Q. Was the debt for goods supplied to Croker's family?

A. Yes, and for dinners supplied to you. (Laughter.)

Q. Are you sure about that?

Are you sure about that?
I am quite sure.
Will you swear that I dined there more You dined there the night that Grant elected Sheriff and several times since A. You dined there the night that Grant was elected Sheriff and seyeral times since then.

The witness had seen Mr. Ivins at his (witness') house before giving his testimony before the committee, and had spoken to bin concerning what testimony he could give, but did not tell all he knew or had testified to.

Questioned as to the date when Mr. Oroker came to him with $180,000, the witness said he could not tell the Precise date. He was not surprised at Croker's having $180,000 with him, as there was plenty of money at that time among people connected with the Board of Aldermen. Witness did not see the money, but he did not doubt Mr. Croker's statement. After finding Tots Adams he brought him to Mr. Croker at his store and introduced him as a man to whom he would trust everything he had. He took Croker and Adams upstairs and left him there. In half an hour or less Croker came down with the satchel still in his hand and said he would not trust Adams. When Adams came down he hurried out without saying a word.

Croker had said to him that there were two Aldermen whom he wanted to reach, and Tom Adams knew them. Mr. Croker had subsequently said that he had seen these two Aldermen, and he understood that everything was satisfactory. "I knew," he said, "somebody had been 'seen."

Q. Who were these Aldermen?

A. Pierson and Wendeil. (Sensation.)

The cross-examination ended at this point and it was generally considered that McCann came out of the ordeal uninjured, and that his testimony had not been shaken up to this point.

The witness said he had been on the best of The wimess said he had been on the best of terms with Croker, his brother-in-law, until Mayor Grant came in between them. Croker then wanted to ask a few more questions, and he got strong answers. McCann said: "Mr. Croker has been misled by his advisers—men who hold high positions in this city. It is these men who have driven him from his home and family today. I refer to Mr. Grant. I think it is a disgrace to this city that a man like Mr. Grant should be its Mayor."

Q. Are you friendly toward Mr. Grant?

A. I have an unfriendly feeling toward him. I consider him incompetent. My feeling toward him would not prevent me telling the truth under cath.

To Mr. Ivins the witness said that John B. Halloran had told him that the $180,000 nad been returned to those who contributed it on been returned to those who contributed it or the New Year's following. He had received no inducement to give testimony.

The witness said he could make charges which he did not care to put forward voluntarily at present, and that "the less those gentlemen have to say, the better for themestyes."

Selves."
When pressed by Mr. Ivine he admitted having a conversation with Grant about his connection with the Broadway Railroad bribery nection with the Broadway Railroad bribery in 1884.

Mayor Grant here arose and said he wanted Mr. McCann to withhold nothing he knew concerning him. Witness then told of a day whenhe (Mr. McCann to withhold nothing he knew concerning him. Witness then told of a day whenhe (Mr. Grant) and Alderman Mooney had been to a lawyer's office together and Mr. Grant referring to the Broadway Railroad bribery and of his obligation to Mr. Croker, said: "if it had not been for his advice I'd have been in that deal with the other fellows." meaning, as witness explained, the Aldermen who had accepted bribes.

Mr. Grant, he said, subsequently repeated the same thing in the presence of Mrs. McCann and Mrs. Croker.

Mrs. Croker and witness had a conversation in January or February, 1885, about the $180,000 Mr. Croker brought to his store about a month before. She told him that Mr. Croker had brought home a large sum of money about that time and she sat up at night to guard it until he arrived at the house. Witness had heard nothing to show that was the same money.

DOLLAR WHEAT.

The May Option Reaches That Figure Chicago To-Day. Chicago, Ill., May 3.—The excitement on 'Change was intense this morning when July wheat opened over 1c higher than the close yesterday. It continued to advance rapidly under a heavy demand from the 'shorts.' and soon rose by rapid strides to Stige, as which is was quoted at 10 o'clock. The other two options advanced in proportion, May selling at 96e and Junest 96c. The continued reports of drought in the Northwest were the principal causes of the advance.

drought in the Northwest were the principal causes of the advance.

The gathering clouds quickly scattered, however, and the temperature continued to fall till it was ovident that if there should be any precipitation is would be in the shape of snow rather than rain. This started the buving movement again and the scenes in the pit became wilder than ever. In fact, the excitement was at a pitch seldom witnessed on the Board. The pit was crowded to suffocation, as many from the other trading centers as could get a foothold upon the raised platform around the pit crowded and jostled each other in frantic endeavors to make themselves heard above the dim. Brokers yelled themselves heard above the dim. Brokers yelled themselves heard above the dim. Brokers yelled themselves heard above the dim. Selves into a steaming prespiration with their gesticulation in their efforts to execute orders. Prices climbed up steadily and at noon July was quoted at 944gc, June at 986990 in various portions of the pit, and amid a mighty shout the figure for May was boomed to $1.

Chicago Market Letters.

Special te Jonn B. Grier.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The excitement in wheat continues, and is likely to do so until we have better reports from the winter wheat belt and the spring wheat sections. To-day's reports are, if anything, worse than any previous ones. Europe advices come stronger. The advance has been at least 180 from the lowest point, and all on weather conditions and prospective searcity from dry weather in the spring wheat countries. The advance may be warranted, but there is at least a pause due; a change to rain might give a decline greater than expected. We recommend taking profits.

Corn is low and safe to buy for investment.

Provisions ruled weak on anticipated large receipts of hogs next week. Packers were free sellers.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Several of the delegates to the Pan-American Congress, together with a lot of army and navy officers and others, went down to Willett's Point yesterday as the guests of President Everett Fraser and other ficers of the Sims-Edison Torpedo Co. The Secretary of War placed the Government steamer Chester A. Arthur at their disposal, and she left Pier 2, North River, at 12:29 o'clock. She touched at the Brocklyn Navy Yard to take on Admiral Braine, but he was unable to go. He sent Commander A. H. McCormick and Lleut. Flynne to represent him. He also sent the Marine Band. Lieut. Col. W. R. King met the party at Willett's Point, and it was first treated to a sight of two torpedo explosions. One of the torpedoes, charged with 100 pounds of mortar powder, threw the spray 180 feet into the air, and the other, which was loaded with fifty pounds of dynamite, threw it considerably higher. Then came the event of the day, the operation of one of the Sims-Edison electric torpedoes. The lower part of the torpedo is cylindrical, with sharp ends, and it contains the explosive substance. The upper part is suspended ix feet below the surface of the water. The torpedo used yesterday was loaded with an amount of gravel equivalent to 255 pounds of dynamite. It was towed out a short distance from the wharf and was then propelled from shore by electricity under the direction of the inventor, W. Soott Sims, on the wharf.

The course was northerly for one-fourth of a mile, and then westerly, returning to a standstill about 800 feet from where it started. Its velocity was at the rate of nineteen miles an hour. The inventor received the congratulations of the Darty. The secual amount of space trayersed was about 4,500 feet, and the time consumed was I minute 45 seconds. steamer Chester A. One of the stablemen thought the horse wanted to drink and with the intention of relieving to drink and with the intention of relieving the animals there entered the stall and walked to the borse's head. He stood with his back turned toward the animal and begen to untie the halter. The bronce reared and jumped at the stableman, striking him with his fore feet. The stableman stried to get out of the stall and the bronce selzed the man's shoulder with his teeth and threw him off his feet. After stepping all over him several times the animal became suddenly quiet and stood looking down on the stableman. The man slowly got up and limped out of the stall. He got back to work yesterday. #### An Employe of an Electric Light Company Receives a Fatal Shock.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. INDIANAPOLIS, May 3.—The power of elec tricity as a death-dealing agent was demon-strated at the works of the Brush Electric Light and Power Co. here at midnight last night, when James Clark, an employe, was instantly killed by a shock. Clark had charge of two dynamos, and also assisted in operating the switch board. The engine operating one of the city circuits had been running hot one of the city circuits had been running het all the evening and the night engineer gave Clark orders to change the city circuit to one of the commercial sugines. A circuit is changed by shifting the wires on the switchboard. Attached to the engine of each wire is a wooden handle, through which the insulated wire passes. This handle fits into a brass neck and ring with which the wire is hooked onto the switchboard. In shifting the current Clark unhooked the city wire with his left hand and the commercial with his right. As he did so one of his fingers accidentally came in contact with the metal at the end of the wooden handle on the commercial wire. The current, 4,000 volts strong, threw him backward a distance of twenty feet.

Jimmy Conner Wins Another Fight-The for the Brooklyn Handicap-General Sporting News.

8 A mere spectacle
the Tobograp Slide
Handicap, to be run over six furlongs at the first meeting of the New York Jockey Club at Morris Park, says the Philadelphia Times, will probably be one ing and exciting this country. There is worth $10,000 a large field is certain to go to the post. The race gains its hideous name from the inequalities of the course over which it is run. As there is not only hill climbing to be done but a sharp descent to be negotiated at the finish, no horse who is the least "dickey" in front can hope to win this race, and this fact alone will put at least one-third of the competitors out of court, Weight will not tell nearly so much ever a course of this description as it does over a dead level track, hence Tenny might effect a surprise here, although burdened with the top-weight of 130 pounds. Pulsifer's colt is a quick beginner, and in a race of this, description that is half the battle. Still it is likely to be a very open affair, and it is doubtful if at time of writing any good judge would undertake to name the winner in ten attempts.

That grand aprinter. Britanaic, if he has this country. There

That grand sprinter, Britanaic, if he has got over the weakness of breaking blood vessels he developed last season, should with horse that now and again last seaso ran well enough sometimes and badly ran well enough sometimes and badly enough at others to justify the belief that the astute Weishman, L. L. Lloyd, who manages him, meditates spoiling the Egyptians by his assistance on some future occasion. I saw this horse's sire, Botheration, beat a field of twenty-six horses in the Chesterfield cup at Goodwood nineteen years ago, and more unlikely things might happen than that his rangy, stylish looking son may be seen fighting out the finish for the Toborgan Slide with some far more fancied candidate.

Dosan't Like Tenny.

Speaking of the poor condition of the Dwye horses entered for the Brooklyn Handicap,

With so many horses under the weather, or at any rate said to be, Mr. Belmont may decide to start Raceland, although I believe it was not his intention to do so up to a week ago. Fides is doing well and is so nicely handicapped at 109 pounds that I cannot but think that the veteran owner will be satisfied to take his chance with the filly rather than risk getting Raceland beaten. Mr. Belmont is peculiarly sensitive with regard to the son of Billet, and, as Rowe is of, the opinion that the pride of Babylon is never at his best until the month of June, the field will have to be small in number and poor in quality to induce the great banker to play his trump card at Brooklyn. Nor do I think that Tenny will be seen at the post, as 123 pounds is a terrible impost for a colt of his build to carry over a mile and a quarter. His owner, Mr. 'Slick' Pulsifer, is a fine judge of racing and he delights in certainties, which, by the by, he frequently finds in races where public backers go helplessly astray. Tenny has never yet shown his ability to concede weight to good horses. Indeed, on the contrary he has on several occasions notably failed to do so when put to the test. He was admirably placed last season and won a number of races, but a careful analysis of his form in races of a mile and over forces one to the cencusion that, though undoubtedly a good and fast horse, he is a long way from a world-beater. With so many horses under the weather up his position awlord of the harem at the last named gentleman's stud farm, where a lot of high class mares of fashionable lineage are already established in comfortable quarters. It strikes me that in Elkwood Mr. Crumbagh has secured for a mere bagatelle a stallion that is likely to make a great mark at the stud. I was talking horse recently with Mr. Gratz when the race in which The Bard beat Elkwood at Jerome Park cropped up.

"Elkwood ought to have won that day; indeed, he had The Bard beaten, but Spellman mistock the winning post; and pulling up let the Chesterbrook horse go on and win," said Mr. Gratz, and these were actually the facts of the case, as any one who watched the race can the Chesterbrook horse go on and win, "said Mr. Gratz, and these were actually the facts of the case, as any one who watched the race can testify. The young Philadelphian experienced some hard knocks from Dame Fortune during, his short but honorable career on the turf, but I doubt if he ever felt the bitterness of defeat as keenly as he did, that day at Jerome Fark. It was doubly hard to lose the race as he did, because Elkwood during his career beat every great horse of his time save and except The Bard. As a 3-year-old he won the Kenner, beating Linden in 3:344; the Sequel, beating Inspector B.; the First Special, beating Barnum, Dewdrop and Volante, in 2:134, and the Sowie Stakes at Haitimore three miles in 5:25. At 4 he won the Merchants' at Saratoga after a dead heat; storissey Stakes, one and three-quarier miles, in 3:049; Twin City Handicap at Coney Island, with 117 pounds, beating Terra Cotta, Firenzi, Eurus, Hidaigo, Linden, Joe Cotton, etc., in 2:0718, the fastest Suburban ever run. He also won the Merchants' Stakes, one mile and eight furlongs, in 2:50%; beating Kingston, Terra Cotta, Montrose, etc.

Are nature's efforts to eliminate poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper exerctory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"For several years I was troubled with boils and carbuncles. In casting about for a remedy, it occurred to me that Ayer's Sarsaparilla had been used in my father's family, with excellent success, and I thought that what was good for the father would also be good for the son. Three or four bottles of this medicine entirely cured me, and I have not since—in more than two years—had a boil, pimple, or any other eruptive trouble. I can conscientiously speak in the highest terms of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and many years' experience in the drug business enables me to speak intelligently."—C. M. Hatfield, Farmland, Ind.

Haley was the favorte in the betting, but Connors proved much the better man in the ring and forced the fighting all the way through, though not in as prime condition as his opponent.

Tenny has neveryet shown his ablity to concede weight to good horses. Indeed, on the contrary he has on several occasions notably failed to do so when put to the test. The last game of the Louisville-Browns, and the last game the Browns will play here fo five weeks will take place at Sports man's Park to-morrow afternoon, man's Park to-morrow afternoon, com-mencing at 3:15 o'clock sharp. The Louis-villes will have out their best men and the Browns will probably play Kane at first base and Klusman at second, as they did yesterday. The Louisville battery will prob-ably be Meakin and Weekbecker and the Browns will very likely have Ramsey and Earle in the points. Meakin pitched a couple of innings yesterday and struck out four of the Browns.

The Browns' Trip. Monday evening the St. Louis team will leave on a five weeks' trip. They go first to Columbus, where they open up their serie abroad. They play four games with the B abroad. They play four games with the Buckoyes, and go then to Toledo, Syracuse, Rochester, Philadeiphia, Brooklyn, Louisville.
They play in all twenty-eight games abroad, and will return to St. Louis to meet the Toledo team on June 7. The Browns are playing a pretty good game, considering the fact that Hartnett's absence has left the team without a good first baseman. Hartnett will join the team very probably at Columbus The Browns will leave pretty well up in the heap, and the teams and absence of St. Louis may take a great tumble when they strike the Browns on the trip.

The Browns defeated Louisville yesterday by a score of 11 to 3. Stivetts and Earle for St. Louis and Ehret and Ryan and Meakin and Weckbecker for Louisville were the batteries.
